

Seminar

Materia Medica of Natrums and related remedies.

With associated case studies and strategies for case analysis

Purpose

- Being able to distinguish between the Natrums and related remedies
- More insight into the use of various strategies and techniques of case analysis

As will be shown by case studies, Erik van Woensel will treat the Materia Medica of the Natrums, with special attention to related (lesser used) remedies. Erik is known for his knowledge of the lesser used remedies and will transfer this knowledge so that everyone can take advantage of it in the future. During the case studies, Erik will extensively reflect on the various case analysis steps that are taken to arrive at a suitable choice of remedy.

Teacher

Erik van Woensel

Erik Van Woensel has been studying homeopathy since 1977, practicing it since 1982, and teaching at several schools since 1990. In 1995 he opened the Educatief Centrum voor Homeopathie, which later was changed into Institute of Classical Homeopathy Van Woensel to organize international classes. In 2007 he founded the Archive for Homeopathy<sup>1</sup>. He teaches international seminars and supervises cases for groups of new and experienced homeopaths. He is the author of Characteristics and Peculiarities, A Compiled Materia Medica - Radar Keynotes 4<sup>2</sup>, of the series Classical Homeopathy - Evidence Based Medicine<sup>3</sup> and Case Analysis in Homeopathy<sup>4</sup>. In addition, he is co-author of Levels of Health<sup>5</sup>, with Right Livelihood Award–winner George Vithoulkas. For eleven years, he has advised and assisted the team that developed the repertory Synthesis. His aim is to spread homeopathy by teaching and writing, to research the possibilities of homeopathy and make this public, to bring the appliance of homeopathy to a higher level and improve homeopathic literature.
